USE OF PRODUCTS TO BOOST GEORGIA

TREMENDOUS POSSIBILITIES TO FOLLOW MOVEMENT TO DEVELOP STATE'S RESOURCES.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10.—No movement in recent years means more for the future growth and prosperity of Georgia than that recently inaugurated and now underway to increase the consumption of home-grown and home-made products, in the opinion of business leaders who discussed the subject here today.

It is, heads of local associations and enterprises said today, a development program with such tremendous possibilities that it can well carry a triple slogan of "Live-At-Home", "Made-At-Home" and "Buy-At-Home".

Greater attention centered on Georgia products for Georgia requirements is seen as a big step in the re-adjustments of business and distribution.

Georgia, long regarded as one of the richest states in the South, with its unlimited output of farms, factories, mines and quarries, it was shown, needs to be "sold" more extensively in home markets, as well as to sections outside, but the purchases of products produced in the state is given particular emphasis at the present time.

Organized efforts on the part of Georgia industries to have their wares accepted on a larger scale by Georgia buyers, it was pointed out, will result in enlarged operations, increased employment and further development of the state's raw material resources.

A new era of prosperity and growth that has not been seen before in several decades, is predicted, if there is a complete utilization of the state's resources and more extensive cultivation of home markets, according to leaders in every line of business.

FIRST DOCUMENT ON THANKSGIVING

PAPER WAS LOST FOR MORE THAN HUNDRED YEARS TILL
FOUND AMONG RUBBISH.

Few Americans know that original presidential Thanksgiving proclamation was lost for over a hundred years; that it was found at an auction sale in 1921; that it was bought by the library of congress for $300.00; and that it now reposes in the archives of that institution—one of the most valuable documents in the world. The division of information and publication of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, in a statement issued today, relates the story of the lost proclamation.

On September 25, 1789, Elias Boudinot introduced the following resolution in the house of representatives: "Resolved, That a joint committee of both houses be directed to wait upon the president of the United States, to request that he would recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging, with grateful hearts, the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a constitution of government for their safety and happiness."

Harmless as this resolution seems, there were objections to it. In reading the annals of congress of that period, we find that representative Aedanus Burke, of South Carolina, thought we should not mimic Europe, "where they made a mere mockery of thanksgiving."

Representative Thomas Tudor Tucker, also of South Carolina, urged that

GEORGIA ROADS AND EDUCATION

FOR EACH DOLLAR ON SCHOOLS
GEORGIA PAYS ONE THIRTY FOR ROADS.

(Georgia Education Journal)

From time to time there arises some son of Midas in Georgia who contends that education in Georgia is costing too much. Yet when viewed in the light of what the state spends for other things it is clearly evident to any intelligent person that Georgia is more than able to take good care of her public schools and her university and colleges. Judged by what the states of the nation spend for the things listed below Georgia ranks high. Judged by what the states spend for education Georgia ranks low. The people of Georgia buy whatever they wish to buy.

The nation's luxury bill, tobacco, etc.	$5,401,650,000
The nation's school bill	$2,448,633,651
Percent of education to luxuries	28 1/4
The nation's highway bill, 1928	$1,350,000,000
The nation's education bill, 1928	$2,448,633,651
Georgia highway bills for 1928, state and county	$28,500,000
Georgia education bill, state and county	$21,156,121
Thus you see where the nation's states spend $1 on highways to $1.81 on education. Georgia spends $1 on education to $1.31 on roads.
Nation's automobile bill, 1928	$12,500,000,000
Nation's school bill	$2,448,633,651
Per cent education to autos, nation	19 1/8
Georgia's automobile bill	$168,467,000
Georgia's education bill, school, college	$21,156,121
Per cent of education to autos	18 1/4
Suppose the state of Georgia be considered as a single private citizen, receiving each year a number of bills for important services. These are some of the bills that would be rendered:
Life insurance	$ 45,000,000
Building construction	150,000,000
Passenger autos	158,000,000
Certain luxuries (such as tobacco and ice cream)	74,900,000
All taxes	88,600,000
All public education, schools, colleges	21,200,000

Hog Sale Tuesday At Central Penitentiary

On account of Thanksgiving, our next co-operative hog sale will be held on Tuesday, November 25th, instead of Thursday. This sale will be at the Central of Georgia pens. The hog market has declined sharply for the past few days, and hogs are selling at around $7.25 at sales this week. It might be well to butcher your supply of meat now, instead of selling on foot. We hope to see better prices later. Would like to have hogs listed for the sale next week.

PROMINENT DIVINE NOW IN SAVANNAH

DR. TRUETT TO CONDUCT SERIES OF MEETINGS TO WHICH PUBLIC IS INVITED.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 18.—One of the greatest concerted religious movements among protestant churches in the South has taken place in Savannah in the person of who appears to be the one now under way in the South for the revival of religion. He is to be held here November 23 through December 4, at which the Rev. Geo. W. Truett, D. D., nationally recognized Baptist divine, will do the preaching. Dr. Truett is pastor of the First Baptist church, of Dallas, Texas, one of the largest congregations in America, numbering more than 8,500.

There will be two services daily, at 2 noon and at 8 p. m. The noon service will be at the First Baptist church, Bull and Hull streets, and the evening service at the Municipal Auditorium, Barnard and Hull streets.

The evening service will be preceded by a half hour of sacred singing under the direction of W. Arnold Smith, a evangelistic singer of Louisville, Ky., and a large chorus choir will be organized by Mr. Smith, consisting of several hundred voices from the various congregations, which will assist in the congregational singing.

In preparation for the revival, the Baptist churches organized the city-wide nine districts, in which cottage prayer meetings were held several nights each week, and a great deal of personal work being done by the Christian people of the city. These prayer meetings culminated in a city-wide inspirational meeting at the Bull street Baptist church Friday night, November 14, the men gathering in the church auditorium and the women in the Sunday school assembly hall.

The prayer meetings will continue through the present week and up until Dr. Truett's arrival.

Indications are that hundreds of out-of-town people will come to Savannah to hear Dr. Truett. The Municipal Auditorium seats several thousand and is amply large to care for all who attend the services.

Atlanta Man Attends War Board Meeting

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 17.—R. R. Otis, Atlanta real estate man and agent of the Peachtree Arcade, where out-of-town visitors often congregate, was among those attending the 1930 session of the War Industries Board Association which was held in New York City last week.

Mr. Otis was acting regional advisor of the War Industries Board which during the World War directed the industrial efforts of Georgia, Alabama, Florida and the Carolinas.

TEACHERS TO MEET BREWTON-PARKER

FIRST THANKSGIVING GAME AT HOME FOR THE TEACHERS IN MANY YEARS.

The South Georgia Teachers will meet Brewton-Parker Institute at Statesboro, next Thursday for their annual Thanksgiving football game.

For the first time in several years the Teachers will play their Turkey Day game at home. This year a grand reunion of all former students, graduates and friends of the college has been planned. All day there will be a general get-together on the campus and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Tide lines up against B. P. I. The student body will be swelled by the large number of former students.

Last year the Teachers defeated Brewton-Parker twice, once in an early pre-season game by a small score and on Thanksgiving in a match won by a large score. Sid Johnson, a former coach of the Mt. Vernon team, vows that he and his boys are teaming up this year and are going to get vengeance this year, and to show he is in earnest, he is bringing three complete teams to Statesboro for the game. Though B. P. I. has a better record so far this season than the Teachers, the boys at the college are determined to end their season with a victory and all this week have been practicing hard. There are no names on the injured list at the college, and the Tide should be in pink of condition by next Thursday.

With the entire Teachers student body on hand and a large portion of Brewton-Parker students here, together with the Statesboro people and folk from surrounding towns, the crowd for the game should run seven or eight hundred.

ANNOUNCES HE WILL NOT ASK TO RETAIN THE JOB UNDER NEW SUPERIOR OFFICER.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19.—The appointment of General Homer C. Parker, the adjutant general of Georgia, as United States property and disbursing officer for Georgia, was announced by the Secretary of War on November 18.

In speaking of his new duties, General Parker stated today that in accepting the duties and responsibilities of the office left vacant by the death of Lieutenant Colonel Arthur McColum that he had no thought of unrenching himself in office after the termination of his present appointment on June 27th of next year.

General Parker states that he is in no sense a candidate for reappointment as adjutant general nor does he expect to ask that he be continued in office as United States property and disbursing officer after his term of office expires. He wants it clearly understood that he will not embarrass the incoming administration by making any effort to retain any employment in the military department. He states that he does not believe it would be good policy for him to remain in the National Guard as a subordinate to his successor and he is not the type of man who would attempt to hold office under any public official who might, for any reason whatsoever, wish to discontinue with his services.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 17.—That the backbone of the present business depression would have been broken in ninety days if the business once enervated by the railroads of the country by the railroads of the country and bus lines, could be restored, was predicted by President L. R. Powell of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, in an address in Charleston, S. C., before the forty-second annual convention of Railroad Utilities Commissioners.

"If the roads seek no special privileges or preferred considerations," said Mr. Powell. "They do ask what they feel sure a fair-minded public will grant them; that is, that there shall be no discrimination

CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS MAT-TERS OF INTEREST TO NAVAL STORES PRODUCERS.

Gum turpentine and rosin farmers, who can do so are requested to attend a mass meeting at Statesboro on Wednesday next, November 20th, at the court house at 10 a. m. The meeting is being called by officials of the new Gum Turpentine and Rosin Marketing Association, and all Savannah naval stores factors are asking the customers to be present at this meeting which is called for the purpose of outlining the program of the new marketing association.

Livingston, vice-president and general manager of the new association and Naval Stores Marketing Association, says that the new association succeeds, says that it is of the utmost importance that every producer who can possibly attend this meeting be present.

Leaders in the industry are expected to attend, including Julian Dargatzis, who has been representing the producers in Washington and prepared the plans for the new organization. H. M. Wilson, executive vice-president of the association and vice-president of one of the large factor houses, says, "I hope every producer will attend this meeting regardless of whether or not he receives an invitation or notice. The list of producers has not yet been completed, but it is important that producers hear the new marketing plans of this association. I believe that if the organization is properly understood and supported by the producers that it will have a beneficial effect on the market and that we shall have more of a free market for our product in the future."

NIGHT POLICEMEN

DETERMINED STEPS TO RID THE
CITY OF EVERY SPECIES OF MIDNIGHT FROWLERS.

Statesboro is going to be lifted out of the class of hick towns if determined police force can accomplish that desired end.

As a last step in that direction, a master-sized "possum" was put to death by the night policemen at an early hour this morning.

Bear in mind that almost exactly one week before this, the same efficient policemen gave chase to and exterminated a master polecat in almost exactly the same spot of our progressive and forward-going city.

Policemen Raif Brannen and Edgar Hart are the vigilant preservers of the peace and integrity of this city whose heroic efforts are to take our reputation from the back-woods level and place it in a modern level.

At the rate these officers are moving, our city will soon be free from pests of every kind—unless, perchance the human species should be excepted. The record is an inspiring one. It was not the tobacco warehouses in the early morning hours that the officers were on their regular beat. The possum was late going in from a night out and the officers espied him as he waddled along in the direction, presumably, of his home, a smile on his countenance. He was late getting to bed and paid the penalty for his delay.

The record stands as follows: One possum this week; one polecat last week; one rattlesnake last month, and a covey of quail last year. The quail were caught by Raif Brannen as they made their roosting place in the court house. The rattlesnake defied the promises of civilization and crawled under Honas Aldro's store on South Main street, where he still presumably is hibernating for the winter.

Our policemen are properly and vehemently resenting the inference that Statesboro is a roosting place for snakes, birds and vermin.

Mooney's university record is an outstanding one, both as regards scholarship and extra-curricular activities. He is now in the university's graduate school, entering upon work or the Master of Science degree; and completed his baccalaureate degree in science at Emory last spring.

Among the campus honors earned by him during his undergraduate career may be mentioned membership in Phi Sigma, national biological fraternity, and in New Literary Society; residency of the widely-traveled Emory Little Symphony orchestra, of which he has been a member throughout his university career; staff position on the Wheel, weekly student newspaper, for two years, and a student assistantship in the university's biology department. METHODISTS HAVE
SUCCESSFUL YEAR

REPORT TO CONFERENCE WILL SHOW ALL ASSESSMENTS
AGAINST CHURCH PAID.

Rev. E. F. Morgan, pastor of the Statesboro Methodist church, left Tuesday morning for the annual conference at Thomasville, carrying with him a report of the church's affairs during his year's pastorate.

Thanks to last-minute efforts of the official board, the report will show every conference claim against the church for the year paid in full. The pastor and his official family were left in a happy frame of mind when, at a Monday night conference, this report was made possible. It has been a strenuous year for the church in a financial sense, what with the church debts still standing and the regular expenses of the church bringing the total financial needs in excess of $6,000.

At the Sunday morning conference the pastor submitted his report of church accessions, showing a total of 19 new members during the year. By the way, the same number as were added last year. At this same service four new members were received by baptism.

At the final board meeting Monday night a resolution was adopted expressing appreciation for the services of the pastor during the past year and expressing the hope that he shall continue to labor for the conference. It was the unanimous wish of the congregation that he shall come back and there is little likelihood that a change will be made.

When Fred Kolokoy, of Kenosha, Wis., was sued for divorce by his wife, "everything was all right until my wife's first husband came to live with us."

MAYORALTY RACE
IS GROWING QUIET

WITHDRAWAL OF LANIER
LEAVES FELD OPEN TO REN-
ROE—TWO FOR COUNCIL.

City politics was slightly simplified during the past two days by the withdrawal of Linton Lanier from the race for mayor, after his formal entry during the earlier stages of the contest for the mayoralty.

Lanier leaves the field to J. B. Renfroe, who apparently, will be elected without opposition.

Mr. Renfroe has previously served the city as mayor for two terms, having retired voluntarily after his four-year's service. He is recognized as one of the city's most substantial citizens and his election should offset the ill will caused by the sound administration of affairs.

While the mayoralty race was being simplified, there have been no developments in the situation with regard to councilmen. With two vacancies to be filled, there are two candidates registered for the places. They are Roger Holland and Arthur Howard, as mentioned in last week's issue. Besides these, however, there is said to be a strong probability of the entry of O. Bland and C. P. Olliff as candidates. The retiring councilmen are W. Brannen and E. A. Smith. The three councilmen who hold over are L. C. Cone, W. D. Anderson and J. L. Watson.

WHY PAY DEBTS?

It is exceedingly unfortunate for Georgia that Attorney General Naper has permitted himself to suggest a possible disavowal of Georgia's present huge indebtedness.

It is regrettable for the reason that many Georgians are not so strong on the payment of debts, anyway, and because many of the statesmen who are such critics that they would welcome an excuse to outlaw a debt contracted by others than themselves.

We are going to expect trouble from this suggestion of the attorney general.

Technically the official may be right—there may have been failure to strictly comply with the rules in making the vote by which the appropriations were made. It may be true that there was neglect to record the names of those voting for and against the measures, as it now suggested as a fatal defect.

But what of technicalities among honorable men? What of technicalities in the transaction of one's own affairs where one's own interests are involved?

The past due appropriations were voted in good faith for the benefit of Georgia's institutions which then needed help and which need it now more than they did then. Georgia schools and asylums have had a right to expect the payment of those appropriations and have operated since they were voted in the firm belief that they would be paid.

It will be a crime to think of seeking to outlaw this indebtedness. It is crime to encourage the suggestion that the abrogation of this debt is justifiable.

There are no needs in the state at present that compare in any remote way with those needs for which these appropriations were made. A legislator of statesmen will find a way to pay them. They will find it even if some other and less needy cause is made to wait while they are being paid.

To a suggestion that he forgive his wife, Charles Willis, of Chicago, replied, "I won't be used as a football again."

The police, of Birmingham, Eng., now test every man arrested for drunkenness by making him pick his hat off the floor and make three bows.

THE WEAK SPOT

There are few rules for prosperity which are absolute—that is, which do not carry a limp somewhere.

Somebody is said to have proposed a scheme to restore prosperity which goes all right as far as it goes. The plan would settle two problems at once—overproduction and idleness. It is pointed out that surplus corn might be fed to mice and thus the surplus be reduced; and that the unemployed could then be set to work building traps to catch the mice, thus disposing of the employment proposition.

On its face, the proposition is sound. But somebody was not content to let well enough alone, and then the suggestion follows that the increase in mice will call for larger cheese production, and the growing cheese industry will take care of the stranded actors at Hollywood; the actors thus having become prosperous will provide a demand for woolen wearing apparel, and the farmers throughout the country will find sheep growing again profitable.

With increased sheep production, lamb chops will come again within the reach of the masses. Consequently everybody will be prosperous, happy and fed.

The one weak spot in the entire program is the mouse trap. If the mice are trapped, the surplus of corn will remain; if the traps are not made, unemployment will remain. So the scheme falls flat at its very inception. There is not perfect scheme for prosperity.

"Uncle Jim" Webster, a negro, of Winston-Salem, N. C., has carried a silver dollar in his mouth for 67 years and believes he has enjoyed good luck.

Two thieves took all the chickens belonging to K. K. Marrett, of Cornersville, Miss., but by accident dropped a wallet containing $150 in their escape.

After finding a wallet containing more than $500 in cash and numerous valuable papers, a school boy at Boston, received only six cents as his reward.

It was not the business of congress to ask for a national day of thanksgiving.

"They (the people) may not be inclined to return thanks for a constitution until they have experienced that it promotes their safety and happiness."

These objections, however, were overruled; the resolution was passed and sent to the senate for concurrence. The senate approved and appointed its committee to wait on the president. The joint committee was made up of Ralph Izard, of South Carolina and William S. Johnson, of Connecticut, from the senate; Elias Boudinot of New Jersey, Roger Sherman of Connecticut and Peter Sylvester of New York, from the house. Washington complied with the request, and on October 3, 1789, issued his proclamation, calling for a national day of Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26.

And then the document dropped out of sight. It was apparently misplaced or attached to some private papers in the process of moving official records from one city to another when the capital was changed. However, it happened, the original manuscript was not in the official archives until 1921 when Dr. J. C. Fitzpatrick, then assistant chief of the manuscript division of the library of congress, and now editor of the forthcoming George Washington Bicentennial Commission series of Washington's writings, "found" the proclamation. It was at an auction sale being held in the American Art Galleries of New York City. Dr. Fitzpatrick, expert in Washingtoniana, examined the document and found it to be authentic. It was written in long hand by Wm. Jackson, secretary to President Washington at the time, and was signed in George Washington's bold hand. Dr. Fitzpatrick purchased the document for $200 for the library of congress, where it is now kept as a treasure. And no amount of money could remove it.

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection and favor; and Whereas both Houses of Congress have by their joint committee requested me, to recommend to the People of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness."

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the People of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be—That we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks—for his kind care and protection of the People of this country previous to their becoming a Nation—for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of his providence, which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war—for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed—for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national One now lately instituted—for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general for all the great and various favors which he hath been pleased to confer upon us."

"And also that we may unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions—to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually—to render our national government a blessing to all the People by constantly being a Government of justice, integrity, and moderation; and, last, and not least, to inspire in every virtuous citizen a sense of his individual and collective responsibilities to his fellow-men, and to his country, and to his God."

"In testimony whereof, I have caused this proclamation to be signed by me, and the seal of the office of the President of the United States to be hereunto set, and the same to be published in the public newspapers."

"Witness my hand and the seal of the office of the President of the United States, at the City of New York, this 12th day of September, 1789."

There is a limit to the amount of credit any firm can extend, that limit has been reached by the Coal Dealers of Statesboro. REFORM WAVE COUNTY GANG

Whether or not the county chain-gang is about to be abolished, there are indications that reforms are under way there which will eventually mean improvement in the personnel of that body.

Information has been given out of a religious movement which recently resulted in the baptism of no fewer than a dozen of the inmates of the gang. The minister, Rev. Isaac Relford, performed the ceremony, which was at Mill Creek bridge, a short distance from the county farm, on a recent Sunday. Previous to that, the minister had been preaching regularly at the gang and gradually had brought about the reformation which resulted in the establishment of a substantial organization among the inmates. Rev. Relford represents what he terms the Church of God, known to some as Holy Roller church, though he denies that this last appellation is at all applicable to the organization

Whereas, Mary J. Beasley, Brooks Finch and Allen Finch, of Bulloch County, Georgia, by their deed dated December 15, 1921, and in record in book 4, page 337, of the land records of Bulloch County, Georgia, conveyed to Patrick F. Henry the following described lands:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in the 48th G. M. district, Bulloch County, Georgia, containing one hundred fifty (150) acres, bounded north by lands of L. B. Hagin and H. A. Elenfeldt, east by lands of Pierpont Manufacturing Company, south by lands of L. B. Hagin, and west by lands of L. B. Hagin; said lands in a plat made December, 1908, by F. B. Grover, surveyor, which said plat is recorded in book 35, page 592, in office clerk's office of Bulloch County, Georgia.

To secure their promissory note for the sum of one thousand dollars principal, and in said note and deed provided that in event of the default in the payment of said note or interest according to the terms thereof, said Patrick F. Henry might sell said land for the payment of said debt; and

Whereas, said note matured December 15, 1928, and was extended to mature January 1, 1930, and provided that the interest annually accruing thereon would be promptly paid and upon failure to pay any of said interest within thirty days after the date of maturity of said note, the entire principal amount of said note with all accrued interest thereon might be declared at once due and payable.

Default having occurred in the payment of the interest due on said note, and said default having continued for thirty days, the entire debt was, under the option given to said Patrick F. Henry, declared due and payable and the power of sale in said deed to secure debt has become operative. The balance due on said note secured by said deed is one thousand dollars principal with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum from January 1, 1930; and sixty-two dollars balance interest coupon due January 1, 1930, with interest thereon from that date at eight per cent per annum.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in the above described deed to secure debt, the above described lands will be sold on Monday, December 15, 1930, at the court house door in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Georgia, during the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash. The proceeds of said sale will be applied as provided in said deed to secure debt.

NEW CHEVROLET GETS RECEPTION

NEW MODELS OUT LAST WEEK ATTRACT NATION-WIDE PUBLIC INTEREST.

Thousands of people who thronged showrooms throughout the nation last week to get their first view of the new 1931 Chevrolet commented particularly upon the features new to the low priced line achieved in the current line of Fisher-Chevrolet bodies.

First remarked among the new features are the increased size and roominess made possible by the longer wheelbase, while numerous other changes not obvious to the eye compare the new models with the older, more rigid, and as completely squeak-proof as human ingenuity can devise.

A surprising amount of hand-work goes into every individual body in the new Chevrolet series. In the application of the exterior finish, alone, 22 individual steps have to be taken along the line, ranging from the cleaning of the metal with an acid solution through the glazing and sanding operations, the dry-sanding and application of a mist coat, to the final Ducoing, touching up and stripping.

The combination steel-and-hardwood method of body construction, the most durable and desirable known to the industry, is continued, although with important changes at vital points. The new roof construction, for example, is now a separate assembly known as the slat-and-bay type, the strongest known to the industry. The bows, instead of being bent, are cut to shape so that they will retain their shape indefinitely. Double steel braces easily accessible for service, replace the wood struts formerly used along the sides of the roof, and strong steel braces are now used at the corners to add to the roof rigidity. The roof structure is thoroughly padded to prevent drumming, and is covered with a material consisting of two layers of fabric bound by an inner layer of rubber.

Anti-squeak material in liquid, rubber dough or friction form is used between all steel braces and their respective wood parts. As a further aid to quietness, insulating material is used wherever wood touches metal.

Exclusive rights just obtained by the Fisher Body Corporation make the new type of spring never before used in automobile seat construction assure greater comfort for the passengers.

The coils of these springs are larger, with strips of fur lining lengthwise to separate the rows of coils. To the sedan 22 coil springs make the front seat unusually resilient, and 45 coils are in the rear seat, nine more than in the 1930 models. Over the springs is placed a thick layer of padding unusually durable and soft.

The upholstery cloth is piped with another layer of padding, and the seats are trimmed with a "Turkish" front, with tufts and buttons along the front side of the cushion, a style of trim which adds much to the tailored beauty of the interior.

For the greater protection of front seat passengers, a layer of jute or felt is vulcanized this year, to the rubber floor mats, and an insulated pad covers the entire dash to keep out heat or cold and add to quietness. The mats in the rear compartments of the coach and sedans are a round wire tapestry type of great durability, and in the sport models the carpet has a high loop content with a new mottled pattern.

Option of broadcloth or mohair upholstery trimming is provided with every closed body in the new Fisher line. Curtains on all bodies have a high luster, and curtain tassels are provided in the special sedans and sport coupes.

All interior hardware has been newly designed and beautiful. Exterior handles have the Protocolor feature which looks like the body itself. Doors are locked from the inside simply by lifting the door handle.

Double lights come with the coach, sedans and sport coupes. A highly polished robe rail is found in the sedan, while a silk cord type is used in the special sedan. Foot rests, comfortably located in all sedans and the coach, are regulated from the front seat adjuster.

Whereas, Mary J. Beasley, Brooks Finch and Allen Finch, of Bulloch County, Georgia, by their deed dated December 15, 1921, and in record in book 4, page 337, of the land records of Bulloch County, Georgia, conveyed to Patrick F. Henry the following described lands:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in the 48th G. M. district, Bulloch County, Georgia, containing one hundred fifty (150) acres, bounded north by lands of L. B. Hagin and H. A. Elenfeldt, east by lands of Pierpont Manufacturing Company, south by lands of L. B. Hagin, and west by lands of L. B. Hagin; said lands in a plat made December, 1908, by F. B. Grover, surveyor, which said plat is recorded in book 35, page 592, in office clerk's office of Bulloch County, Georgia.

To secure their promissory note for the sum of one thousand dollars principal, and in said note and deed provided that in event of the default in the payment of said note or interest according to the terms thereof, said Patrick F. Henry might sell said land for the payment of said debt; and

Whereas, said note matured December 15, 1928, and was extended to mature January 1, 1930, and provided that the interest annually accruing thereon would be promptly paid and upon failure to pay any of said interest within thirty days after the date of maturity of said note, the entire principal amount of said note with all accrued interest thereon might be declared at once due and payable.

Default having occurred in the payment of the interest due on said note, and said default having continued for thirty days, the entire debt was, under the option given to said Patrick F. Henry, declared due and payable and the power of sale in said deed to secure debt has become operative. The balance due on said note secured by said deed is one thousand dollars principal with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum from January 1, 1930; and sixty-two dollars balance interest coupon due January 1, 1930, with interest thereon from that date at eight per cent per annum.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in the above described deed to secure debt, the above described lands will be sold on Monday, December 15, 1930, at the court house door in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Georgia, during the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash. The proceeds of said sale will be applied as provided in said deed to secure debt.
